Early Alerts: Full Term

#1: September 6-7, 2022

#2: October 5-6, 2022

Description of Assignments:

Tests: You will have a total of 3 Chapter quizzes. Each quiz will readings from the textbook (Connect). Also, you will have a Final Exam at the end of the semester, which covers the chapters covered during this course.

Written assignment: You will complete 1 written assignment in which you will have the opportunity to apply what you have learned in class discussion and readings from the book.

Connect: In this course, we will use the Essentials of Psychology, 14th Ed., but not in the form of a print textbook. Instead, you will purchase access to a digital version of the book on the McGraw-Hill Education Connect online platform. Connect uses technology that adapts content to your skill level to make more efficient use of your study time and create a more-effective reading experience. Each Chapter assigned during this course will have practice questions that accompany the reading portion of each chapter. Students must complete the practice questions to receive credit. You will also have an activity to accompany the chapter which will help you to apply the concepts you have learned to real-world applications.

Discussion Forum: Attendance is imperative for success in this class. Since this is an online class, attendance is demonstrated by logging in to D2L and posting in discussion threads. I trust you all are responsible students, and this will not be a problem. Reading the textbook in Connect is also important; assigned readings must be done in a timely manner. All Discussions Forums have a due date which falls on an assigned Sunday at 11:59 PM Eastern Time. It is your responsibility to post a relevant and thoughtful reply to two other students' original posts before the due date. Your responses should be complete and thoughtful sentences, which either raise an important point or question regarding the topic at hand. DO NOT SIMPLY AGREE OR DISAGREE. Add something relevant to the discussion! A discussion forum is an important tool for facilitating class discussion and learning in an online environment. Discussion post replies are due by 11:59 PM Sunday of the assigned week of the Discussion Forum. However, you must post your initial post response before 11:59 PM on Wednesday of the assigned week or you will see a deduction in points. Please view the Discussion Forum schedule in the Discussion Forum, tentative schedule in the syllabi, or Weekly Reminders in the News Items if you are unsure when a due date for a Discussion Forum falls.

- An important distinction from a traditional face-to-face course; I will not be doing any formal 'lecturing.' I will, however, be actively monitoring and sometimes participating in class discussions via the discussion forum to make sure the discussion is on track and to steer it back on track if it gets diverted. Any questions can always be direct to me via the discussions or via e-mail.
- If you post early, please make sure you monitor the Discussion Forum before the due date to see if you need to add any additional comments to your classmates' posts.

Discussion Forum Tips

- Minimum of 150 words for your initial post.
- Minimum of 75 words for each reply post.
- Make sure that you cite your outside material (peer reviews, newspapers, etc. NOT Wikipedia).

- When agreeing or disagreeing with a post, always explain why.
- Stick to the topic. Read over what you have written and ask yourself, "Does this answer the question that was posed?"
- Bring in your own knowledge to add to the discussion.
- Do not merely post "I like your post, good job, etc." Add to the discussion.
- When responding to other postings, you can play "devil's advocate" and ask your own questions.
- Always check back to your postings for any responses and keep the discussion going by responding back.

Use proper Netiquette: respect, full sentences, proper grammar—this is not texting or IMing.

COURSE POLICY STATEMENTS:

At the beginning of the semester, the instructor must report "no show" students for this course. "No show" indicates the student will be removed from the course. In order to be considered as attending the online course, the student must log in to D2L, and complete the Mandatory Attendance quiz by Friday, 8/19, before 11:59 PM; this quiz will verify students' attendance in the course.

Early Alert Dates: Instructors will enter an "Early Alert" warning for students during this time period: September 6th -7th . An advisor will contact students who receive an "Early Alert" warning and will offer study guidance and contact information for campus resources to help the student be successful.

Withdrawal Date: August 19th, is the last day to withdraw from a course and receive a refund. September 15th is the last date to withdraw from a course and receive a W. See your advisor to discuss your options.

Late Work Policy: Each type of assignment has a set deadline. Please note that failure to complete work on time is usually due to failure to start work in a timely manner. No excused, or unexcused late work will be allowed. If the student chooses to wait until the deadline and then runs into a situation that will not allow the student to complete their work by the deadline no matter the reason including technical, medical, etc., they will be given a zero for the work.

- The Case Study assignment has a deadline. No excused, or unexcused late work will be allowed for full credit. If the student chooses to wait until the deadline and then runs into a situation that will not allow the student to complete their work by the deadline no matter the reason, they instead may submit late work into the "Late Work for 20% Off of Total Score" D2L folder but it must be submitted within 24 hours of the original deadline. After that extended deadline, students will be given a zero for the assignment. Assignments turned into the late work folder will be graded, and then 20% of the original points possible will be deducted for lateness. Therefore, students can only earn up to 80% of the original possible points for late work. Please note that failure to complete work on time is usually due to failure to start work in a timely manner.
- In Connect the student will find the Chapters we cover in the Discussion Forums are considered extra credit if the activities are completed. Each Connect activity is worth a set amount of points, which are visible in Connect. It is up to the student on how much extra credit activity he/she completes.
- Another bonus opportunity will be offered later in the semester worth up to 40 points to help make up for missing, poor, or late work.

These are the only opportunities to make up for missing or poor work due to any reason.

Assignments must be submitted to the appropriate dropbox and using the Microsoft Office for students to receive a grade. Assignments submitted to the wrong dropbox, wrong format or via e-mail will not be graded.

Incomplete Grades

An Incomplete grade "I" is given only in those rare situations where the course cannot be completed for a valid reason, and the student is passing the course. An "I" grade, if granted, must be completed in the next semester of enrollment. An "I" grade cannot be used as a means of avoiding a poor course grade.

ASSIGNMENT/GENERAL QUESTIONS

Muddiest Point Forum: You may post a specific question here for the instructor and other students in the course to answer (some may have the same question as you) regarding your assignment/concepts or general questions. Any questions regarding grades will not be answered in this forum. Questions regarding grades will be redirected to send the question through e-mail. You may also e-mail your instructor regarding any questions. Please make sure you post in the subject line the class you have the question in.

TECHNOLOGY ISSUES:

If you have a question regarding technology, such as the inability to access assigned assignments in Connect, you should contact the textbook's technical support team FIRST (You will find their contact information on their website and in D2L, then contact your instructor. If you have not contacted technical support first, you will be advised to do so when contacting the instructor. D2L issues should be referred to Computer Services, building 5, or D2Lhelp@nfc.edu. D2Lhelp Office hours are 8:00 AM to 4:30 PM ET - Monday through Friday. Phone number 850-973-1672.

Technological issues with your computer, Internet, etc. are NOT an acceptable excuse for submitting work late. There are various resources for those without a computer, such as local libraries and labs on campus. Please make use of these resources to complete assignments in instances where your personal technology is not available to you.

What should you expect from this course?

Students should expect to gain a general understanding of different aspects of Psychology. Through various assignments, students will be able to apply concepts learned to real-life situations. Students will be able to evaluate their understanding of the concepts presented through assignments and exams.

DISCLAIMER#1: Since this is a college-level course, we will be discussing adult themes and issues that some of you may hold strong opinions about. At all times, we must have an environment conducive to learning. Therefore, everyone will have respect for each other's ideas. Along with this comes the recognition that our own views may not be the only or correct views about these issues

DISCLAIMER #2: In this course, you will be expected to keep up with your readings and class assignments. It is your job to read ALL of your assigned readings (on time) and participate in class discussions (via D2L). Doing so will ensure your, and the rest of the classes learning experience is optimal. It is also your responsibility to keep up with your grade throughout the course. DO NOT wait until the end of the semester to panic about your grade.

Online Aspects: Since this course is online, it requires a different skill set from students. It is very important that you are self-motivated and keep up with the work. This includes your posts in the forums as well as your replies to others' posts. Also, this class is very reading intensive! You won't be able to pass this course without having read the material. Reading is essential!

E-mail Tips: I teach several classes, therefore, when e-mailing me, please do include the following:

- Your name
- The class you are in.
- An appropriate subject in the subject line

Cheating Policy: It's not tolerated, not worth it, and hopefully won't be a problem. If it becomes one, I will report it. All college academic honesty rules will be enforced. Please refer to the policy on academic honesty for further questions. Cheating and plagiarism will not be tolerated in any way, shape, or form. If you are unsure how to cite something, check with me or the various campus services listed in D2L or this syllabus. Copying any information without citations is NOT ok!

Assignments

- All assignments must be typed using Microsoft Word as required.
- Submit to the appropriate Dropbox through D2L (using either the link provided in the checklist or by going to the Dropbox area on D2L).
- Assignments will be checked for plagiarism through Turnitin within the appropriate Dropbox.
- A match of 20% or less is acceptable.
- A match higher than 20% should be revised and resubmitted before the due date. Those not corrected will receive a zero.

- Assignments should follow the rubric located under D2L-content.
- No e-mailed assignments will be accepted.
- Assignments submitted to the wrong Dropbox or in the incorrect format (i.e., not in Microsoft word) will not be graded.

Plagiarism: Is a form of academic dishonesty. It consists of copying a portion or full portions of text from any textbook, professional journals, website, periodicals, or any other type of printed material and then attempting to present it as your own work neglecting to give credit to the original author (s). If you use anyone else's IDEAS, this is a form of plagiarism. You can also plagiarize yourself if you use a paper you have previously submitted for a grade.*

If proven that you have incurred in plagiarism, you will receive a ZERO for the assignment and will be referred to the Office of Academic Affairs. Turn-It-In plagiarism detector is active for the D2L drop boxes which you will use to submit major assignments for this class. I will NOT accept papers with more than a 20% familiarity score. After you have submitted your paper, follow up with the Turn-It-In score for the originality report (this process may take several hours) I suggest you rework your paper until you lower the score to less than a 20% familiarity score. You will be graded ONLY on your last submission before the deadline. Remember, it is a good idea to contact me sooner rather than later if you are feeling confused or unclear on an assignment.

An online class is a professional environment, and certain expectations are required from you regarding your behavior.

- Always be respectful and address your instructor and your classmates professionally in all means of online communication (e-mails, chats, and discussions).
- All types of online communications (e-mails, chats, and discussions) should be used for academic purposes only. These are learning tools and should be treated as such.

NFC INFORMATION AND POLICY STATEMENTS:

Academic Honesty

NFC is committed to providing a high-quality educational experience to all students, and students are expected to follow appropriate and honest academic practices. This information is available in the Academic Regulations section of the college catalog at www.nfc.edu. All cases of academic dishonesty will be reported to the Office of Academic Affairs.

Instructors use www.turnitin.com to review papers and projects for improper citation and/or plagiarism by comparing each student's report against billions of internet pages, a repository of works submitted to Turnitin in the past, and thousands of academic sources. A comparison document called the Similarity Report details the areas of a student paper that may have been documented incorrectly or used improperly. Refer to instructor's course policy statements for usage details.

Attendance Policy

Regular and consistent attendance facilitates student success. Absences beyond the equivalent of two weeks of class are considered to be excessive and thus may impact a student's course grade. Typically, two weeks of class would be described as follows:

- For a three-credit hour class that meets MW or TR: 4 class meetings (2 weeks).
- For a three-credit hour class that meets once a week for three hours: 2 class meetings (2 weeks).

Students are responsible for material covered during their absence. Refer to instructor makeup policy.

If there is no verifiable participation within the first week of the term, a student will be dropped from the class for non-attendance. This includes classes delivered in face-to-face, online, or hybrid format. See instructor policy.

Textbook Purchases

All required course materials are listed in the Virtual Bookstore tab on NFC's homepage. Course materials purchased through Follett, NFC's only contracted vendor, can be charged against a student's financial aid account. Course materials
