Research Paper: You will complete one major paper assignments in which you will have the opportunity to apply what you have learned in class discussions, readings from the text textbook and academic journals. You will also have the opportunity to explore different types of resources available online and make sound decisions about the relevance of resources to complete your assignment. The description of the research paper is found in D2L main page for our course under the heading Course Resource's checklist. I strongly encourage you to start gathering resources to complete this assignment in order to avoid last minute problems. This assignment MUST be submitted to Turn-it-in plagiarism detection program. The drop box is already set up with this program. You do not need to have any special password to submit your paper. You MUST submit your topic for approval, failure to do so, will result in 30 points deduction, no exceptions! Research Paper Due Feb. 17th.

6 Connect Assignments: You read and complete the weekly interactive smart book activities for each module for a grade. Read carefully the open and closing time for these online assignments.

5 Discussion Questions: You will complete a total of 5 posting assignments based on your test book readings and other academic resources in which you will have the opportunity to analyze and apply your learning. Your posting MUST contribute to the class discussion and it must reflect your own words and thinking, not a repetition of the book material. Each posting when assigned, will open on Monday at 8:00 am and it will close Thursday of the same week at 11:55 pm. Providing quality feedback to your peers is a critical part of your grade, so postings and feedback submitted after 3:00 pm on the day due will be considered late. Citing your references is critical part of your discussion posting, failure to cite references will cost you 10 points deduction.

NFC Course Policy Statements

At the beginning of the semester, the instructor must report "no show" students for this course. "No show" indicates the student will be removed from the course. In order to be considered as attending the online course, the student must log in to D2L and complete "Getting Started," step #1. Students will be prompted to complete the Mandatory Attendance quiz by the deadline as given on the course schedule; this quiz will verify students' attendance in the course.

NFC Information and Policy Statements

Academic Honesty

NFC is committed to providing a high-quality educational experience to all students, and students are expected to follow appropriate and honest academic practices. This information is available in the Academic Regulations section of the college catalog at www.nfc.edu. All cases of academic dishonesty will be reported to the Office of Academic Affairs.

Instructors use www.turnitin.com to review papers and projects for improper citation and/or plagiarism by comparing each student's report against billions of internet pages, a repository of works submitted to Turnitin in the past, and thousands of academic sources. A comparison document called the Similarity Report details the areas of a student paper that may have been documented incorrectly or used improperly. Refer to instructor's course policy statements for usage details.

Assignments:* Each assignment for this class has a deadline. No excused or unexcused late work will be allowed. Please note that failure to complete work on time is usually due to failure to start work in a timely manner. Assignments are available in enough advance for you to complete them early if necessary. It is recommended you complete assignments at least two days before the due date. IF YOU EMAIL THE INSTRUCTOR REQUESTING EXTENSIONS ON ASSIGNMENTS, YOU WILL BE REFERRED BACK TO THIS POLICY.

My expectation is that you complete your own work. If you are caught cheating on a test or any other type of assessment, you will receive an automatic ZERO and may face further consequences as outline in the NFCC student handbook. If you are caught cheating for the second time, this could result in the course failure.

Plagiarism:* Is a form of academic dishonesty. It consists of copying a portion or full portions of text from any textbook, professional journals, website, periodicals, or any other type of printed materials and then attempt to present is as your own work neglecting to give credit to the original author (s).

If proven that you have incurred in plagiarism, you will receive a ZERO for the assignment and will be referred to the Office of Academic Affairs. Turn-It-In plagiarism detector is active for the D2L drop boxes which you will use to submit major assignments for this class.

Attendance Policy

Regular and consistent attendance facilitates student success. Absences beyond the equivalent of two weeks of class are considered to be excessive and thus may impact a student's course grade. Typically, two weeks of class would be described as follows:

- For a three-credit hour class that meets MW or TR: 4 class meetings (2 weeks).

- For a three-credit hour class that meets once a week for three hours: 2 class meetings (2 weeks). Students are responsible for material covered during their absence. Refer to instructor makeup policy.

If there is no verifiable participation within the first week of the term, a student will be dropped from the class for non-attendance. This includes classes delivered in face-to-face, online, or hybrid format. See instructor policy.

Textbook Purchases

All required course materials are listed in the Virtual Bookstore tab on NFC's homepage. Course materials purchased through Follett, NFC's only contracted vendor, can be charged against a student's financial aid account. Course materials may also be purchased from any other source with the understanding that these non-Follett purchases cannot be charged against a student's financial aid account.

Used Book Purchases

Students should check the Follett book list found in the Virtual Bookstore tab on NFC's homepage for correct titles and editions. Note: The ISBN listed in Follett may include both the required text and a required access code. When considering purchasing used books, students should be sure the purchase includes the ACCESS CODE in courses where required. If not, the access code must be purchased separately at an additional cost.
